As one sits in the spiritual director's chair, we often become aware of the interior movements within ourselves. These movements contain the seeds of inner wisdom and self-discovery that can be broken open, allowed to germinate and evolve in the context of supervision. In our webcast, we will explore how we can deepen what we experience in our ministry. Bernadette Miles and Marlene Marburg will open up the potential that supervision of spiritual directors offers in the presence of an experienced other or, when we cannot have a supervisor present, to look at a process for self-supervision.

Program:

9.30am - 10am	Arrivals - tea/coffee (at Treacy Centre)
10am - 10.10am	Chris Chaplin - Introduction and Prayer
10.10am - 11am	Bernadette Miles - Overview of Supervision
11am - 11.30am	Morning tea break and Reflective exercise
11.30am - 12.30pm	Bernadette Miles - Modelling of one-on-one supervision
12.30pm - 1.15pm	Lunch break
1.15pm - 2.30pm	Marlene Marburg - Self-supervision
2.30pm - 3pm	Discussion
3pm - 4pm	Close and afternoon tea break (at Treacy Centre)

Presenters:

Bernadette Miles - Bernadette Miles is an experienced spiritual director, supervisor of spiritual directors, and co-director and co-founder of Kardia Formation P/L (www.kardia.com.au). Bernadette has ten years' experience in coursework development, lecturing and administration of postgraduate study in the field of spiritual formation for Sentir Graduate College of Spiritual Formation, (University of Divinity).

Marlene Marburg - After 12 years in formation ministry with the Jesuits at Campion and Sentir in Melbourne, Marlene Marburg PhD, co-founded Kardia Formation with Bernadette Miles in 2015. Marlene is a poet, spiritual director and formator of spiritual directors. In shaping her Autoethnography for her PhD, Marlene developed a methodology which honours the edge between known and unknown. As such, it is a way of supervision and self-supervision. www.marlenemarburg.com.au

MC:

Chris Chaplin msc - Fr Chris Chaplin msc is in practice as a spiritual director and supervisor. His ministry includes retreats and facilitation, and he is a psychotherapist in private practice. He was M.C. for CSD's 2014 eConference, "The Trinity - A Place of Deep Listening".
