Supervision is for spiritual directors and those in ministry who wish to reflect on their ministry experience in the hope of celebrating milestones and uncovering obstacles to effective accompaniment of those with whom they work and serve. Some members have experienced supervision previously and some have not.

The confidential group comes together monthly with 4-5 members to share and explore their experience with a supervisor. Participants will be open to listen, to contemplate, to wonder, to be courageous and be committed to the group, and in this way support each one's greater empowerment.

While each person comes with their specific joys, challenges, questions and aspirations, Kardia supervisors hold the supervision conversation in the awareness that the Presence of God within each one is ultimately the revealer of truth and wisdom. Supervisors are supportive companions to the group participants while mindful of the people the participants want to serve more effectively.

At Kardia, all supervisors are Ignatian trained spiritual directors (AECSD recognised Programs) and accredited supervisors (AAOS). I am applying to receive group supervision through Kardia online via zoom. The fee is $395 Australian for ten sessions over 2024. It is anticipated that each session will take one and a half hours.
